

PROGRAMME OUTCOMES (POs) AND PROGRAMME SPECIFIC OUTCOMES (PSOs)

B.A. ENGLISH LITERATURE

Programme Outcome (POs):

- To recognize and appreciate the real-world context of knowledge
- Practice creative thinking and expression
- Demonstrate the capacity to argue in innovative direction
- To demonstrate the ability to compare and contrast different processes, modes of thought, and modes of expression from different historical time periods and in different geographic areas.
- To articulate the relations among culture, history and texts.

Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs):

The Bachelor of English Literature program aims:

- To help students to have a strong foundation in English Literature and develop comprehension knowledge of literary history and theories
- To facilitate and encourage students to read wisely, acquire knowledge of English Literature from various parts of the world
- To make students proficient in oral and written communication.
- To develop communicative competency and enable them to communicate in academic, corporate and government domains.
- To identify language variations (formal/informal, American/British) and use the appropriate variety in a given context.
- To help students develop critical and analytical skills in interpreting literary texts.
- To assist the students from rural area in acquiring intellectual and personal skills which are transferable to a wide range of employment contexts and life experiences.

PROGRAMME OUTCOMES (POs) AND PROGRAMME SPECIFIC OUTCOMES (PSOs)

M.A. LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

Programme Outcomes(POs):

- Demonstrate a detailed knowledge and understanding of selected fields of study in core disciplines in the humanities, social sciences and languages.
- Work effectively in groups to meet a shared goal with people whose disciplinary and cultural backgrounds differ from their own.
- Work with independence, self reflection and creativity to meet goals and challenges in the workplace and personal life.
- Articulate the relationship between diverse forms of knowledge and the social, historical and cultural contexts.

Programme Specific Outcomes(PSOs):

The Master of English Literature program aims:

- To develop students' literary competence and to enable them to read, analyze and interpret global literature.
- To help students to undertake research in the any of the 3 streams of English Studies, Literature, Applied Linguistics & ELT.
- To prepare the students to seek careers in various fields including teaching or work freelance as translators and media persons, etc.